

Eversheds Faasen

Lawyers who understand your perspective

What do you need

Our extensive mix of expertise and experience is matched by an in-depth knowledge of the Dutch legal system and business culture. That makes us an ideal partner for local clients and those looking to invest in the thriving Netherlands economy.

from your law firm?

The world is changing continually and many legal advisers are struggling to keep up with evolving client demands. At Eversheds Faasen we understand this, and we have developed a service that addresses the issues you face today.

We are a modern and steadily growing practice of lawyers and civil law notaries based in Amsterdam and Rotterdam. Our success is built on an appreciation of the need to provide measurable value, clear costs and service levels that go beyond your expectations. You will get no-nonsense, commercial and, above all, effective advice from people who are passionate about their work and your business.

Our extensive mix of expertise and experience is matched by an in-depth knowledge of the Dutch legal system and business culture. That makes us an ideal partner for local clients and those looking to invest in the thriving Netherlands economy. Our services for the local market are augmented by our association with one of the largest international law firms, meaning you get the same high quality of advice wherever you do business around the globe.

We have listened to our clients and acted. Lawyers who understand your perspective and a law firm that delivers exactly what you need: Eversheds Faasen is a unique Dutch law firm for your unique organisation.

"For me, they are much more than just lawyers. I sometimes compare them to an exclusive boutique. They have a very personal approach and you really feel acknowledged."

Henrik Thomassian, President and CEO of Temco Service Industries, Inc.

"They think like business people, which is why they can very quickly and excellently connect with an organisation."

Wim van den Bogerd, Director of Itho

Understanding

You need ... value, predictability and transparency

In times of economic uncertainty it is even more important to use a law firm that works efficiently, charges predictably and delivers on time.

Eversheds Faasen does all of these things. Using a project management approach, we carefully scope, plan and cost everything upfront. We ensure that the right person at the right level is doing the job. We keep you in touch with everything that we do for you and never carry out extra work without your permission. At the end of every transaction we ask for feedback to see if things can be done even more efficiently next time.

We are flexible when it comes to billing. You may feel more comfortable with hourly rates, but we can generally accommodate anything that works for your organisation including fixed fee-arrangements. Whatever the method, we will be completely transparent to you.

The result is a service where you keep control of your costs, have greater certainty in outcomes and can measure the real value being added by your lawyers. It is a service that fits in with your way of thinking.

your perspective

... teams of all shapes and sizes

We have 80 people in the Netherlands, including lawyers and notaries, and thousands of others worldwide. Eversheds Faasen's people are at the top of their profession. Our size and strength gives us flexibility. That means you get the people and skills you need on every piece of work – big or small.

This saves your money and reduces your risks. A partner will not work on something a junior lawyer could do. Likewise, a critical job will not be done by someone without the skills to tackle it.

All your legal needs can be met in one place by one dedicated team that works together all the time.

... local and possibly international coverage

Wherever you do business, we can help you. We are a member of Eversheds International, one of the world's largest legal services providers with offices across Europe, the Middle East, Africa and Asia.

All these experts come with a guarantee of quality and a shared belief in service excellence. All our global teams work in the same way as we do, making it one genuine team.

... the right mix of skills and specialisms

Eversheds Faasen can assist you in virtually every area of business law. Our main areas of advice are:

- commercial contracting
- corporate
- employment
- energy
- European and competition law
- financing
- litigation
- M&A
- notarial law.

Our lawyers are specialists with an in-depth knowledge of the sector you work in. They will use this knowledge to look out for your interests by warning you of possible risks and highlighting potential opportunities. You can be confident that all the advice you receive is flavoured with the pressures and legislation that directly affect your organisation.

You need ... commercial thinking

Our advisers have an entrepreneurial mindset which allows them to better understand your needs. Many of them also have considerable in-house experience, giving them even greater empathy with your position. You will not only get the best legal solution but one that is commercial, pragmatic and fully focused on what you want to achieve.

Everything we do for you will be about getting the best possible outcome and nothing will be ruled out. If we believe that a course of action is not realistic, we will tell you. Where we see real opportunities for your organisation, we will be definitive in our recommendations. We act with integrity and professionalism and are accountable for our actions.

"Right from the start, I noticed they don't just get involved in a case, but more in who I was and what I want to achieve with my organisation."

Bill Rackoff, President and CEO of the Asko Group

... people you can work with

You will find us to be great to work with and eager to get under the skin of your business and understand how you work. We invest a lot of time in fully understanding our clients' perspective and you will see the results through advice that can really make a difference.

We have a passion for our work and see every one of our clients as unique. You will benefit from innovative and creative solutions that are tailor made for your organisation.

We will always add value wherever possible. We want you to think of us as part of your team. People you can rely on to be there when you need them and trust to deliver on time. We want you to enjoy spending time with us and feel you can pick up the phone at any time to discuss any issue.
